The Bargaining Unit is comprised of all personnel employed or to be employed by the MPA and the Maine Peoples Resource Center (MPRC) excepting those personnel in the positions of Co-Directors, Deputy Director, Organizing Director, Field Strategies Director, Statewide Canvass Director, Canvass Director, Administrative Director, Beacon Editor, and employees working for all hosted projects, such as Maine Voices.

In the event of a dispute between the parties as to future inclusions or exclusions from the unit resulting from the establishment of new or changed classifications or titles, either party to this Agreement may apply to the National Labor Relations Board for resolution of the dispute.

ARTICLE 2

ACCESS TO EMPLOYEES

MSEA-SEIU shall have access to employees covered by this Agreement to carry out its legal responsibilities as a bargaining agent as provided for in this Article.

MSEA-SEIU's representatives will be granted reasonable access to employees during employees' working hours for the purpose of investigating and processing grievances and for the purposes of administering this Agreement. Such access will be subject to the representative providing the appropriate MPA representative with advanced notice of the visit. Such access will not disrupt MPA operations or violate agency security procedures. If access needs to be temporarily delayed for special reasons, those reasons shall be explained to the MSEA-SEIU representative.

Any MSEA-SEIU representative may have access to employees in this unit for the purpose of explaining MSEA-SEIU programs and benefits during employees' non-working time, e.g., breaks, lunch periods and after hours, provided such access does not interfere with MPA operations. Such access shall be to non-work areas.

MPA shall inform MSEA-SEIU of all new employee orientations and/or new hire meetings no less than five (5) workdays in advance and shall allow MSEA-SEIU representatives one (1) hour to present at any orientation and/or new hire meetings. The formal performance evaluation will include a written self-evaluation by the employee, a written evaluation by the supervisor, and a meeting between the supervisor and employee to review and discuss the feedback. ARTICLE 4

COMPENSATORY TIME

Overtime-exempt employees will occasionally work more than forty hours per week.

1. Compensatory Time Accrual & Use

- a. In general, work responsibilities should be attainable within a forty (40) hour work week. However, overtime-exempt employees will occasionally work more than forty hours per week.
- b. When hours worked surpass forty (40) hours in a given week, staff will accumulate one (1) hour of compensatory time off for each hour over forty (40) hours worked. A workweek is Monday through Sunday. Employees should submit accurate timesheets within the workweek the hours were worked. Failure to submit accurate timesheets within seven (7) days after the close of the workweek in which the hours were worked may forfeit compensatory time.
- c. No employee may accrue more than forty (40) hours of accumulated compensatory time without the approval of the Co-Director. When an employee believes that their compensatory time may in the future exceed forty (40) hours, they may submit to their supervisor and Co-Directors a plan outlining a) why their balance may exceed the forty (40) hour cap, b) how much time they estimate will accumulate, and c) a plan for when they will be able to use their accumulated time. Unless the supervisor/Co-Director provides the employee with reasonable reasons for rejecting or modifying the plan within seven (7) days, the plan will be considered approved. Compensatory time should be taken within six months of the overtime incurred, usually as normal periods of rest and relaxation rather than extended vacation time. Compensatory time requests must be made to an employee's direct supervisor. All efforts will be given to grant compensatory time off requests. Except under extraordinary circumstances, requests to use compensatory time will not be denied.

- d. No provision of this Article shall have any effect on the accuracy of time sheets.

Time sheets will remain accurate to hours worked and will not be capped.

2. Work Planning and Workload

- a. On at least a quarterly basis, during regular supervision checkins, the employee and their supervisor shall create and/or revise a workplan for the employee, reflecting the employee's job description, organizational goals, team goals, and other clear benchmarks. The meeting may be used to assess the employee's current workplan against their job description, especially in regard to the estimated versus actual percentage of time spent on defined work areas.

Adjustments may be made to update the job description to reflect any changes to the employee's role and responsibilities and/or to shift projects in order to achieve a more sustainable workload.

- b. The supervisor should be an employee's first point of contact for workload issues, however employees may also discuss their concerns with a union representative or shop steward at any time. If deemed necessary, the union representative or shop steward may approach a Co-Director to share workload concerns raised by an employee that have not been satisfactorily addressed by the supervisor.

ARTICLE 5

A department head or their designee shall be responsible for ensuring that all allegations of misconduct or other complaints against an employee on which any action is to be taken or a record is to be made shall be investigated. 2. Investigative interview: Investigative interviews of subject employees shall be conducted at a reasonable time and, when practicable, on the MPA's premises when the employee is on duty. A union representative may participate in the interview. The employee shall have the right to request a bargaining unit employee's presence during the interview. The union shall be notified of any investigative interview of an employee where it is anticipated that discipline might result to that employee.
3. The interview shall be limited to questions that relate to the allegation(s) and the employee's fitness for duty in his assignment. Confidentiality of the interview shall be maintained, except to the extent information developed at the interview is needed to disseminate during further investigation. An interview of an employee is not required in order to impose discipline where just cause exists for same.
4. If after investigation the employer determines that no discipline is appropriate, the employee shall be informed in writing that a complaint was made against them but was unfounded. Appropriate notification shall be placed in the employee's personnel file or another agreed location documenting that the employee was investigated and exonerated on the matter.

5. Investigative Interview: When the employee under investigation is to be interviewed concerning the alleged conduct which could result in discharge, the employee and their representative shall be notified in writing, at least forty-eight (48) hours prior to the interview. In the event of an emergency, such reasonable notice as the circumstances permit shall be given. The notice shall state that an official investigation is being conducted and shall state the subject matter of the investigatory interview, including the time frame and nature of the conduct.

All time spent in an investigative interview by any employee shall be considered time worked.

6. Employee Witnesses: If an employee is to be interviewed as a witness only, the employee and their representative shall be so informed prior to the interview. If during the course of the interview it becomes apparent that the employee witness may be subject to discipline as a result of conduct that is the subject of the interview, the interview shall be terminated and the employee afforded the protections of this Article. This provision may be waived by consent of the employee and the union representative.

The parties agree that not all investigations that may result in job change or termination are disciplinary in nature. 4. Any employee receiving a discipline or dismissal will first be informed of their right to meet with the appointing authority or their representative prior to the action proposed. The employee will be informed of their right to have a Union representative or steward present. At that meeting the appointing authority or their designee will give the employee an explanation of the employer's evidence against the employee (if that has not already been provided) and offer the employee an opportunity to respond.

5. Counseling an employee is not disciplinary, is not subject to the just cause provision, and will not be used for purposes of progressive discipline. Counseling refers to directing an employee's work performance to alleviate performance issues. Counseling, when documented, shall be identified as such.

ARTICLE 16

INSURANCES

MPA carries group health insurance for its employees. Full-time salaried employees will become eligible to sign up for health insurance coverage immediately upon employment. Hourly employees (including part-time employees working more than twenty (20) hours per week), will be eligible to sign up for health insurance after sixty (60) calendar days of employment.

Coverage takes effect on the first of the month following the date of eligibility and once the application is completed and accepted. MPA pays 100% of the cost of health insurance coverage for all eligible salaried and hourly employees, and part-time employees working over twenty (20) hours. MPA will also pay 50% of the cost of coverage for the spouses and dependents of eligible staff. If an employee has access to health insurance elsewhere and chooses to enroll in it (and provides proof of such coverage), MPA will pay toward the other premium the lesser of: the amount it costs the individual employee to be covered on the other plan; or an amount equivalent to what MPA would pay toward MPA's health insurance.

During each health insurance coverage period (1 year) no employee will pay more than $4,500 for an individual or $9,000 for a family (the previous out-of-pocket maximum). If an employee pays anything above $4,500 individually/$9000 for a family for costs covered by health insurance, MPA will pay the difference up to the current policy's out of pocket maximum. Any health insurance costs above $4,500/$9,000 up to the current maximum will be paid by MPA.

Full-time salaried employees are eligible to sign up for dental insurance immediately upon employment. Hourly employees (including part-time employees working more than twenty (20) hours per week) are eligible to sign up for dental insurance after sixty (60) calendar days of employment. MPA pays 50% of the cost of dental coverage for all eligible full-time salaried and hourly employees, and hourly employees working more than twenty (20) hours per week, their spouses, and their dependents. MPA pays 50% of the cost of dental coverage for all hourly employees. Dental coverage is voluntary: employees may choose not to participate. If any employee chooses not to receive dental coverage, the employee voluntarily gives up the value of MPA's contribution; MPA will not pay an equivalent amount in cash or any other form.

MPA will continue to provide vision insurance at the same coverage levels and cost to employees, as was available on January 1, 2019. Full-time salaried employees are eligible to sign up for vision insurance immediately upon employment. Hourly employees (including part-time employees working more than twenty (20) hours per week) are eligible to sign up for vision insurance after sixty (60) calendar days of employment. MPA pays 50% of the cost of vision coverage for all eligible full-time salaried and hourly employees, and hourly employees working more than twenty (20) hours per week, their spouses, and their dependents. MPA pays 50% of the cost of vision coverage for all hourly employees. Vision coverage is voluntary: employees may choose not to participate. If any employee chooses not to receive vision coverage, the employee voluntarily gives up the value of MPA's contribution; MPA will not pay an equivalent amount in cash or any other form.

If an employee chooses to enroll in another health or dental plan, MPA will pay the lesser of: the amount it costs the individual employee to be covered on the other plan or plans or the amount it would cost MPA for the individual employee to be covered on MPA's plan or plans. However, under no circumstance will MPA pay an equivalent amount in cash or any other form for any foregone insurance.

Long Term Disability Insurance: MPA will provide a fully-funded, long term disability insurance plan for all MPA employees after sixty (60) calendar days of employment. The plan will provide 66% of the employee's salary from the point of disability until eligible for social security.

4. MPA may advertise the position and seek outside applicants after five (5) working days of internal posting.
5. After an interview, MPA must inform internal candidates whether or not they were selected for the position as soon as possible.

In addition to the responsibilities that may be provided elsewhere in this Agreement, the following shall be observed:

(a) Exclusive Negotiations. The MPA will not bargain collectively with any employee organization other than MSEA-SEIU with reference to terms and conditions of employment of employees covered by this Agreement. If any such organizations request bargaining, they will be advised by the MPA to transmit their requests concerning terms and conditions of employment to MSEA-SEIU.

ARTICLE 28

RETIREMENT PLAN AND CONTRIBUTION

MPA provides a retirement benefit to covered employees through a SIMPLE IRA plan. Employees must have earned more than $5,000 gross in the previous employment year and be reasonably expected to earn more than $5,000 gross in the current employment year to be eligible. At the latest, once the employee reaches the $5,000 threshold in the second year, MPA will begin contributing 2% of each eligible employee's gross salary to the plan, to be invested on the employees' behalf on a monthly basis. The employee's first 2% in benefits is based on the employee's payroll from Jan 1st of the qualifying year, and the investment will be brought up to date for that year once required paperwork is completed by the employee. The employees are responsible for setting up their investments with the MPA investment advisor; no contributions can be made before this occurs. Each person may elect to contribute an additional amount up to tax-deferred contribution limits set by law. These employee contributions are voluntary, and will not be matched or supplemented by MPA. Additionally, for all qualifying for the SIMPLE plan, MPA will also pay employees a 3% "pension bonus"-- this 3% will be added income to the individual, with all but the relevant Social Security and Medicare tax deferred. As with MPA's employer-paid pension benefits, all deferrals will be invested on the employees' behalf on a monthly basis. Investment instruments are selected by the employee from a range of choices offered by MPA.

ARTICLE 29

Upon the issuance of such decision, if either party requests, the parties shall negotiate a substitute for such specific Article, section or portion thereof, provided that the remainder of this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect.

Provided, however, that the terms and conditions of this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect after the expiration date of this Agreement and during the period of collective bargaining negotiations for a new Agreement, until such time as a new Agreement is arrived at, except that if either party desires to terminate the Agreement after the Agreement's expiration date, it may provide written notice to the other party following the expiration date and not less than ninety (90) days prior to the desired termination date.

3. When possible, two (2) weeks' notice will be given prior to a change in work assignments. A minimum of two (2) weeks' notice will be given to a mandatory change in work schedule.
4. When an employee is assigned temporarily by their supervisor or by the Executive Director to a job or assignment with significantly greater hours or responsibilities the employee shall be granted a meeting with their supervisor to discuss time, compensation, work load and priorities. Acting capacity assignments shall not be made on an arbitrary or capricious basis.
5. In the event of a significant change in duties and/or responsibilities, an employee may seek an increase in compensation of the position by submitting a request to the Executive Director or their designee. The request will be reviewed and a written decision provided to the employee and the union. The employee may appeal the decision, subject to the provisions of the grievance procedure.
